THE CALIFORNIA ELECTION AND THE WORKINGMEN.

Although the vote polled in California for delegates to the State constitutional convention, which meets next September, was very light, yet the returns are not all in and the result of the election cannot be stated. Sufficient is known, however, to warrant the belief that the Non-Partisan ticket will have a majority in the convention. The Non-Partisan at-large ticket is evidently elected in the Second, Third and Fourth districts, while the Workingmen's at-large ticket is probably elected in the First district. The Non-Partisans were successful in Sacramento, Placer, Colusa, Sutter, Alameda, Santa Clara and San Joaquin counties. Stanislaus, Tuolumne and Calaveras went Democratic. Nevada, Solano and Los Angeles, gave the Workingmen a majority. In San Francisco, owing to the large number of tickets in the field, the Workingmen have in all probability gained the day. The Sacramento Bee holds that Wednesday's battle decided one thing beyond a peradventure, that both the Democratic party and the Republican party in California are annihilated, and that alone neither can compete with the new party just arisen.

We do not believe this election warrants the above opinion, nor do we find in other California exchanges, a concurrence in the views expressed by the editor of the Bee. The strength manifested by the Workingmen appears, rather as the result of opposition to their course, and the division and negligence of those who opposed them, than from any inherent weakness in the old parties. The Workingmen must be respected, and their principles receive positive recognition in politics, but the people of this coast are not prepared to pass into ignorant, unpracticed hands the reins of State government.

Party corruption emanates not alone from party leaders, as many would have us believe. The people are more or less corrupt themselves, and the most corrupt class of the people are now enlisted in the ranks of the Workingmen's party. It is true that many of those who have taken part in this laborers' move, are honest men, but it is more forcibly apparent that the majority are ignorant and dangerous men; those who are narrow in judgment, nor possessed of real honesty of purpose. With such an element increasing in strength, and having as sympathetic allies communistic and socialistic organizations on the European continent, and kindred societies in the old States, those who desire a stable government have occasion to apprehend many local difficulties. Riots may occur in large cities, an incubus of misguided, erratic influences will obtain much sway in State affairs. But the effect of this crude admixture in political affairs will tend to purify, in time, our national and State politics, and in the end, it shall appear that our country will have been blessed by reason of this much dreaded baptism.

CONGRESS ADJOURNS.

The second session of the forty-fifth Congress closed at 7 o'clock yesterday morning, and to-day, in consequence, the nation rejoices. The Senate has proved itself a strong, dignified body, but the House has exhibited an amount of stupidity, neglect of duty, and political charlatanism seldom equalled in such a body. A telegram informs us that during the closing hours the Sergeant-at-Arms had to restore order in the House. Business had been neglected and political harangues and measures had consumed the best time of the session. The Pacific coast remains under the heel of railroads, and finds no relief from Chinese immigration. The Indian question is left in status quo, nor were measures enacted for the solution or easement of the labor question. By a policy of misconceived economy some departments must suffer from want of sufficient appropriations, while for scarcely needful purposes sums of money have been freely granted and are being expended. It is a sad comment on state and national legislation when the people rejoice that the legislative body have adjourned, and have fear of bungling political legislation when such bodies meet.

Judge Hilton was so strict about the women's hotel that boys of nine years of age were not allowed to enter it. He drew the line at pantaloons.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Eureka Republican comes to our address as usual, but in marked contrast to the brilliant pen of Arthur McEwen. There is no danger that its editor will get into trouble, as tame, fossilized productions seldom arouse a second thought, or even make an impression. Aggressive journalism makes people think and act, and of course in jostling against men and things must incur even frequent opposition. But give us the life, with its rugged as well as smooth paths, and when we lay it down we shall have done something positive, either good or bad, or more likely both.

The probabilities are we shall have very few Indian fights with the Bannocks. The troops under Howard will be marching over southern Idaho and northern Nevada in search of the predatory Indians, while the red devils are chuckling over Howard's blindness, and they continually out of harm's way.

Mrs. Bowers, the seeress humbug, sees in her mind a man in an old deserted mining shaft in Virginia city, but she cannot tell where the shaft is. This we regard as convenient and quite illustrative of the presumed value of Spiritualism as a crude directive power to profitable human action.

Bannock War.

SILVER CITY, Idaho, June 20th.—Major Egbert's five companies of the Twelfth Infantry, numbering eight officers and 185 men, arrived here at 10 A. M., having made a forced march across the country from Cornucopia, averaging thirty miles a day. The officers and soldiers are in good condition, considering their long and tedious march. One of General Howard's sons is a Lieutenant in this command. They remained here two hours and departed for Camp Lyon, about twenty miles distant, on the Oregon and Idaho line.

A messenger arrived here to-day from Big Springs, who reports that Lieutenant-Governor Adams had withdrawn the Nevada volunteers from that point and ordered them to scout the country between Duck valley and Three Forks.

At midnight on Tuesday Indian signals were discovered in various directions. An outbreak of Indians at the Duck valley reservation is anticipated. At Paradise valley and Quinn's river trouble is also anticipated among the Indians. Lieutenant-Governor Adams came nearly as far as Battle Creek. He has only sixty volunteers at his disposal.

General Howard is working with might and main to get the troops into a proper position, and to perfect a plan of operations as a means of watching the Indians and detecting their soft points. The Commanding General has concluded to accept the service of twenty-five picked volunteers, under Captain Morrit Kelly. This company will be composed of the best Indian fighters and the most experienced frontiersmen. They will be furnished with arms and ammunition, but will expect no pay for their services. They are to be ready for duty by Sunday next.

The Leader of the Bannocks.

Buffalo Horn, the present leader of Bannocks is well known throughout all the region of the country embraced between the Sierra Nevada on the west, the Missouri river on the east, the Pacific railroad on the south and the Dominion of Canada on the north. He is a half-breed, and has always been friendly to the whites. Two years ago, during the Black Hills campaign, he was Crook's chief scout, and in that position outranked even such men as Wild Bill and Captain Jack Crawford. He is thoroughly familiar with the strategic tactics of the United States troops, brave to rashness, and hardly beyond even the usual run of Indians. He will probably not lay down his arms until absolutely driven to it. —Eureka Sentinel.

Governor Smith of Wisconsin, has advised from Burnett county stating that considerable alarm exists in that section because the Chippewa Indians of Wisconsin and Minnesota are believed to have formed a compact with the Sioux and a general rising is looked for. The Indians have stopped their hunting and are roaming over the country and exchanging visits with the Sioux tribes. The people, fearing their lives, urge the Governor to remove by force to the reservation all Indians in that section. The Governor has forwarded the facts to General Sheridan and asked for protection.

It is roughly estimated that the aggregate of the appropriations made by Congress for the fiscal year ending with June, 1878, amounts to about $170,000,000.

The centennial anniversary of the evacuation of Valley Forge by the Continental army was celebrated at that place on the 19th in the presence of 90,000 persons.

OUR AUSTIN LETTER.

The Ricker-Chartz Affair—Local News—Life in Austin—Cassidy not a Candidate for Senatorial Honors.

Editor Gazette:—The late killing scrape at Eureka is the uppermost topic just now, and when the situation is carefully analyzed it is a most lamentable occurrence. Ricker, a great favorite, an industrious young man, and with good prospects for the future, and just on the eve of marriage, is cut off in a moment of frenzy by a foolish fellow who was married less than a year ago, and who has industriously worked himself up to a good position; destroying one life, blighting another, and pulling down what he has been so long in building up, ruining his future prospects and bringing misery upon his wife. And all for what? If Mr. Ricker objected to his private arrangements being kept from day to day before the public, he was only right, and there was no excuse for continuing the meaningless squibs, and no saucy note could possibly justify his "taking off," in a cowardly manner, too, for Ricker was not only not armed, but physically he was no match for Chartz, who is a large, raw-boned fellow, with plenty of muscle but no pluck. This, following the killing of Miss McCuen by Jansen, and Gus Botto by Bigelow, gives Eureka a front rank in the killing business. A wholesome example or two would stop some of the pistol practice too freely indulged in among the camps. We have one man here in Austin awaiting trial and acquittal, who shot an old man who was down in a shaft some months ago. Since that, the business has been transferred to Eureka, where it is doing well.

LOCAL AFFAIRS

here are somewhat stagnant. Since my last we have had a consecration, the ball of the Miners' Union—which was a fine affair—one death, no marriages, and no fights worth speaking of. The country looks deserted, and might as well be turned into a "caaf ward," if there were any calves to ward, and certificates of marriage are quoted as "heavy," but we have three churches in full blast—the Episcopal, under Bro. Blackiston, the Methodist, under Bro. Crall, and the Catholic, under Father Phelan. "Ah, be Gob," said a worshipper who passed me on the hill the other Sunday, coming from chapel, "Father Phelan had a noice service this mornin', an' I'm feelin' all the better fur it." He meant to say, "A fellow Phelan makes us wondrous kind," I've no doubt. It is refreshing to see Fred Hart "scouting" around with note-book and pencil, picking up items for the columns of the Reveille, when there is not an item to be had for love or money. But Fred's resources are inexhaustible, and when all else fails he can fall back on a few good Sazerac lies. Is there anything more trying than the work of making up a daily issue, where there is not a text even to be picked up for a good lie?

OUR WHOLE LIFE HERE

consists of getting up, wandering around and sleeping. In the morning a few tree-frogs congregate on the terrace in front of the court-house, another batch in front of the Magnolia and the Cosmopolitan, and a few at the reading-room. The ornamented Plutes squat in the streets or on the sidewalks, or invade back doors in search of "blek-fast." A dusty stage crawls in and a rickety buck-board or two crawls out toward neighboring camps, and all is still from "rosy morn till dewey eve," save now and then the dulcet tones of some bull-whacker, urging his tired team up the grade, or the screech of the Manhattan whistle, as shifts are changed.

CASSIDY NOT RUNNING FOR SENATOR.

I wish the papers would let up on George Cassidy. He is not aiming for senatorial nomination. A private letter from Mr. Cassidy says: "No one supposed, when the Chicago convention assembled, that the mountain was laboring with Abe Lincoln, or that the Cincinnati pow-wow would put Mr. Hayes on the track" [George never says President Hayes, as the English never said General Washington, and never now say American—it is always "Yankee"] "and who knows what our next Presidential nominating convention may do? There are possibilities in the future, and the country needs a man at the helm of state who knows no North, no South, no East, no West—no party, and no—thing." And you may depend upon it that Cassidy's aspirations are above Congress, and so the Nevada press is certainly shooting wide of the mark—like Eureka target practice—their pistol practice is better. He would make an excellent President, or even a fair Congressman—for George—and Nevada, which has furnished a Jones to the Senate, should be represented at the White House. Besides, we have not had an Irish President since Jackson, and now is the time to unite our Hibernian voters on a lineal descendant of one of her noble families with a record running back to Adam. If it was not for the family tree, there are thousands of men who would deny that such a man as Adam ever lived, but the family record stares them in the face and settles their faith. George is a lineal descendant, and has some of the ruling traits of the old man—in fact he will eat an apple from any hand, and never bite the hand. His one drawback is his deficiency in platform architecture. His idea that they should be built of loose planks is a fallacy which any Washoe zephyr would readily knock to smithereens. But for that, we would support George. MMCCXL.

Bismarck's Big Dog.

The Tribune's Berlin special says that during an interview between Bismarck and Gortschakoff, a large Danish dog of Bismarck's made a ferocious attack upon Gortschakoff, and it was only by the herculean strength of Bismarck that the dog was taken off and the life of Gortschakoff saved. It is stated in explanation, that when the Prince becomes excited in discussion, his voice rises and he stamps his foot. Something of this kind occurred during the interview with Gortschakoff, and the dog mistaking the eagerness of his master for anger sprang suddenly at the throat of the Russian diplomatist. Happily Bismarck was as quick as the dog, and had seized and thrown him aside before he had fastened his teeth in the person of the Russian Chancellor.

From Constantinople.

The Russians are sending reinforcements against the Rhodope insurgents, who seem to be making preparations to take the offensive.

The Russian fleet has arrived off Prinkepos, one of the Princess Islands.

The situation in Russia and Roumanian armies is a miniature copy of that existing about Constantinople. The Roumanian government is certainly not disposed to quarrel with Russia, but the feeling between the officers and men of the respective armies is so strongly antagonistic that the proximity of the two lines renders unfortunate complications possible.

The Potter Committee.

The Potter sub-committee to go to Louisiana and take testimony, consisting of Messrs. Blackburn Stenges and Reed will not leave for three or four days. The members believe they will not be required to remain in New Orleans longer than a week or ten days, and that the testimony of all the witnesses called can be taken within that time.

DAIRYMEN ATTENTION.

The Buffalo Salt Works

ARE NOW IN CONDITION TO SUPPLY

your wants, and the proprietor asserts that for quality his product cannot be beaten.

The BUFFALO DAIRY SALT received

the first premium at the Fourth Annual Fair of the Nevada State Agricultural, Mining and Mechanical Society, and it is really

A FINE QUALITY OF SALT.

Farmers are invited to Try It

The same salt is now in use in Sierra, Lassen and Modoc counties, and gives the best of satisfaction for Dairy and meat curing purposes.

LARGE QUANTITIES OF

Meat, Dairy and Stock Salt

Are now ready at the marsh for shipment, and the proprietor, feeling convinced that he has a superior article, has determined that farmers shall try it.

Dairymen are invited to Experiment at my Expense.

After using Liverpool Salt try some fine

dairy salt from the Buffalo Marsh, and note

the difference in price.
